EASTWOOD NOTES: In this instance a GOOGLE.COM search of "Full Metro Locksmith Service" rendered several hits, but every time I clicked on one of them I would get some results like:

So I had little choice, I ultimately clicked on one of the "CACHED" pages that GOOGLE.COM had saved. The results highlighted in YELLOW below are the results that I got from a CACHED superpages.com page. Once I had those results, I did more GOOGLE searches on the telephone numbers and ultimately came up with a bunch of listings with a variety of unregistered trade names as well as a variety of PHONY ADDRESSES. Calling any of these telephone numbers results in reaching "24/7" that goes on to say that they are recording the call. I then proceeded to cross-reference the unique phone numbers culled from the multiplicity of addresses, and came up with yet even more unique address matches... I could have spent a lot more time on this but I simply wanted to demonstrate that BASAD is engaged in a similar pattern of conduct as ATLAS and MILLENNIUM.
